

The Young Leaders Council (YLC)

is an alumni leadership group at Columbia College that seeks to cultivate young philanthropists and develop a pipeline of committed, engaged alumni.

Membership in the YLC offers Columbia College alumni 1-20 years out of college unique opportunities to network with other recent alumni and gain access to specially curated intellectual content available through the University's network.

Council members make an annual College Fund gift of $1,500 or more.

BENEFITS OF JOINING THE YLC

- Receive curated invitations and notifications of College and University events.
- Gain access to key University and alumni leaders via Young Leaders Council events and speaker series.*
- Networking opportunities with young alumni peers.
- Opportunities for growth within the Columbia College volunteer community.

YLC CHAPTERS

We welcome alumni both near and far to join the YLC. Our two regional chapters on each coast are:

Bay Area Chapter
est. fall 2017

New York City Chapter
est. fall 2012
